BIO

Wout Morra is a specialist criminal defence lawyer with a reputation for excellence. Clients praise his calmness, ability to strategize and courtroom manner – where he is sharp while always remaining friendly and result-oriented. He has successfully defended suspects across all fields of criminal law, varying from murder cases to charges of fraud and corruption. His latest results include an out of court settlement in a frontpage corruption case, and securing a victory in a major tax case.

Wout is a deputy judge in the Court of Appeal and co-heads the criminal law program of the Dutch Bar Association.
